They took us quietly, with their hands on our backs, to a room where they took care of the flowers, and we were then led into the hall, where the flowers were out. The hall was large, and the ceiling was high. We were then led into the next room, where we found some pictures on the wall, and a large table covered with books. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large mirror, and a large window. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large bed, and a large chair. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large desk, and a large chair. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large table, and a large chair. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large window, and a large mirror. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large bed, and a large chair. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large mirror, and a large window. We were then led into the next room, where we found a large desk, and a large chair.