Our woods were covered with snow and ice. From the window, one could see the American flags flying over the houses. The woods were quiet and peaceful, with the only sound being the occasional whisper of the wind through the trees.

In the beginning, we wondered about them.

The w gardens. The woods were covered with snow and ice. From the window, one could see the American flags flying over the houses. The woods were quiet and peaceful, with the only sound being the occasional whisper of the wind through the trees.

In the beginning, we wondered about them.

The woods were covered with snow and ice. From the window, one could see the American flags flying over the houses. The woods were quiet and peaceful, with the only sound being the occasional whisper of the wind through the trees.

In the beginning, we wondered about them.

The woods were covered with snow and ice. From the window, one could see the American flags flying over the houses. The woods were quiet and peaceful, with the only sound being the occasional whisper of the wind through the trees.

In the beginning, we wondered about them.