from the country who did not speak any English and in need asked for a nurse. For most of us were simple girls with no education. We never looked back on our past. We did not know our history. We did not know our motherland. We did not know our country. We were just a few girls who were happy with our lives.

We did not like to study in school, but we did not know how to do anything else. We were just children, growing up in a rural village. We did not know anything about the outside world. We were just children, growing up in a rural village. We did not know anything about the outside world.

We did not like to study in school, but we did not know how to do anything else. We were just children, growing up in a rural village. We did not know anything about the outside world. We were just children, growing up in a rural village. We did not know anything about the outside world.