THE BUDDHA IN THE ATTIC

Elena, who had recently informed her that he would not be accompanying her on the trip, gave him back his ring. She had been sent to the expert colony on the mission of studying the Children of China's thinking and their young mother's. The mission was to find out what the children had been taught and what they believed. Elena had been sent to study the Chinese children's thinking and their young mothers. She was told to find out what they believed and what they had been taught. The mission was to be a month long, and Elena was to stay in the colony for a month. She was to study the Chinese children's thinking and their young mothers. The mission was to find out what the children had been taught and what they believed. Elena had been sent to study the Chinese children's thinking and their young mothers. She was told to find out what they believed and what they had been taught. The mission was to be a month long, and Elena was to stay in the colony for a month.